About Me

I'd like to keep this short.

I'm an old school e-whorer that's been gaming several platforms including Instagram, Facebook, Twitter and last but not least Tinder. I've been in this game since 2016 and have made almost a million dollars.

During this time I've learned how the game works, and have used my knowledge to constantly stay ahead of my game and overcome any roadblocks that come ahead.

I mostly do meet ups but have recently gone into OnlyFans and profits have been soaring ever since. I'm making somewhere between $600-1200 per day when I'm working.

This is however only a simple guide on how to use multiple accounts on Tinder and redirect the traffic to Snapchat, from where you can monetize it however you'd please.

I will keep this guide short and only cover how you can get traffic from Tinder, I will not be sharing monetization techniques here because that's a whole other story that will take up much of my time. Maybe in the future if this gets a lot of attention, I will create another guide about that.

How Do You Do It?

Alright so to run multiple Tinder accounts, you will need an android emulator and plenty of hard disk space. I recommend using Bluestacks.

Now most of you will say, emulators are dead, they are detected bla bla bla. This is NOT true.

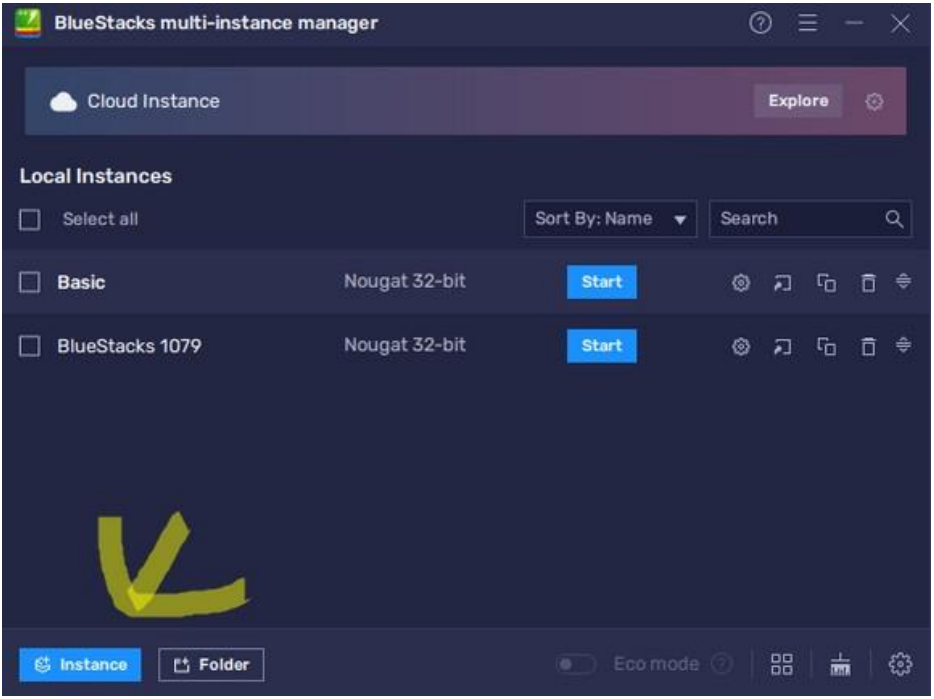
The reason you are getting banned on Tinder are not emulators and your photos. The reason are your public phone numbers and your proxies. Using phone numbers from websites like smspva or textverified which rotate the same numbers over and over again for months get your account listed for verification INSTANTLY.

Even if you somehow manage to find a clean number there which is 1% of the time, the number will eventually get added back into the pool of numbers and some other douchebag will use it with a bad proxy and your account will get banned, even if you did everything right.

So in a couple of days you will have to create a new account again and lose precious time which you can use instead to milk the traffic that you can get during that time which your account is running perfectly.

Step 1 - BlueStacks

Go on Google and download the latest version of BlueStacks right now. Install the program and immediately open the BlueStacks multi instance manager. This is where you will store your Tinder accounts.



Go ahead and create a Fresh Instance, leave everything on default except for the resolution which will be left on 'Portrait' mode.

Open your Bluestacks, login to your Google account and download Tinder. You can use the same Google account on multiple Tinder instances without any issue, as long as you don't use the same account on multiple distances.

Step 1 - Tinder Accounts

Here comes the big twist of this method.

We will NOT be using disposable phone numbers, we will NOT be using any proxies, we will be running 10-20-30 accounts on your own HOME IP.

Yes, the right way to do it is to use your home ip. Tinder does not give a shit how much accounts you have running on your home ip. It just doesn't. I'm currently running more than 50 accounts on my home ip. Not simultaneously though, and these accounts were not created on my home ip.

The old days of creating a female account, adding your Snapchat in the bio and using a proxy with a geo location changer are OVER.

I currently only purchase VERIFIED accounts. These accounts are real in the eyes of Tinder, and you can successfully add your SC in the bio without any problems, since they are already verified.

My vendor also adds a Tinder Plus subscription to the account so you can successfully change your location on Tinder from within the application and sucessfully hide your real distance from other people.

Step 1.1 - Tinder Accounts

Perks of Using Verified Plus Accounts:

1. They last FOREVER.

2. They can add SC in bio without any decimals in between and make your account look natural instead of spammy.
3. They are more trustworthy in the eyes of Tinder users, so they are 100% sure that you are REAL.
4. You get more Snapchat adds cause people believe you are REAL.
5. You can change your location to anywhere in the world.

Step 1.2 - Tinder Accounts

So what are the first steps after you login to your new verified Tinder account?

1. Go on some public forums and download a pack of a semi-gorgeous girl (make sure she has her clothes on) and upload 3-5 photos of her.
2. Add your zodiac sign, say that you have a cat and that you are a NON smoker.
3. Change your location from within Tinder's settings and make sure to hide your distance in the bottom.

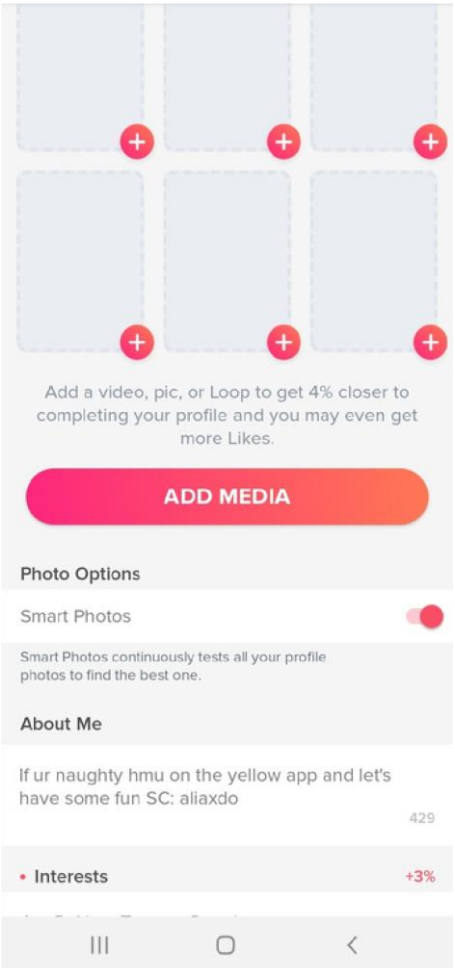
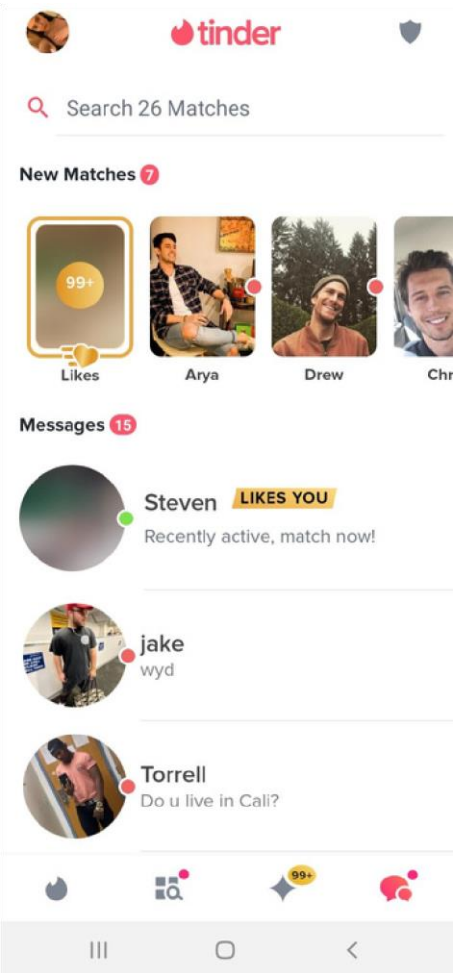
Step 1.2 - Tinder Accounts

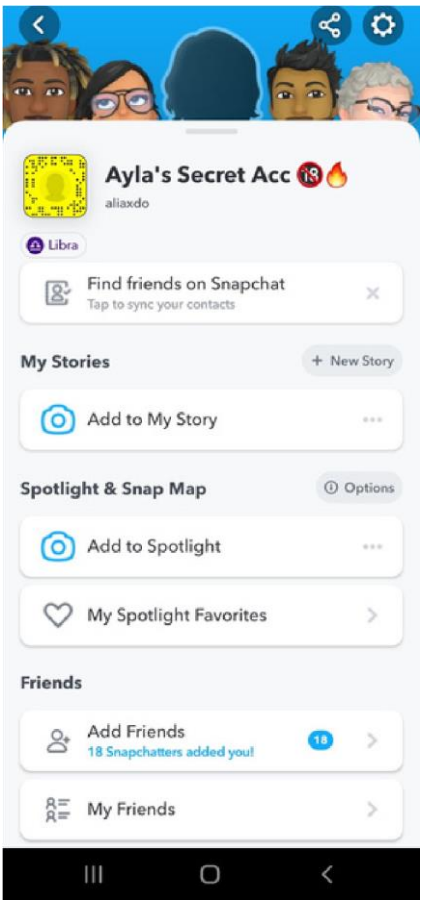
Here is how my Tinder account looks. That is how I setup my BIO, I add some interests as well and put 'Student' as my current employment status. Keep in mind the Tinder account is FRESH and it already has 99+ likes and loads of messages.





Step 1.2 - Tinder Accounts

You can expect anywhere between 10-50 adds per hour on your Snapchat if you're using a verified Tinder account. My profile was live above for about an hour and I received 18 Snapchat adds but bare in mind I set up my account in a very bad time where the people in the USA were sleeping so if I did it in peak hours it would have been double or triple the amount of adds I received. You can see the username is the same as in the Tinder bio.



Now imagine running 10 accounts that get 20 adds every hour = 10 x 20 = 200 adds EVERY hour multiplied by x24 are around 5,000 adds per day. Crazy right? But of course each location will have more or less traffic so you can't really expect these numbers to be accurate, they are just estimates of mine. Cause I get around 10,000 adds per day using 50 accounts divided into different countries, states, cities, etc.

You'll also need to have a different location for every account obviously and at least 2-3 Snapchat accounts so you don't overload the account with too many adds.

Conclusion

1. Download BlueStacks. Create one instance for each account, login to the account from it swipe a few profiles, like some of them and close the Bluestacks instance. Repeat daily for each account.

2. Get some VERIFIED Plus accounts. Either find some girls and pay them to create & verify them then purchase Plus membership yourself or buy ready made from forums or websites on the internet. Be CAREFUL from scammers though. I personally buy them from @accountstealth on Telegram.
3. Make sure to have multiple Snapchats, I recommend 1 Snapchat account per 3 Tinder accounts so you don't reach limits.
