Method 1: Get paid to review calls (unsaturated)

Nearly anyone can do this, you only need to be able to understand English. You will need to listen to calls from all kind of companies. Once you have listen to the call you need to choose between a few options, I've added a picture so it's easier to understand.

Was there a live conversation with a qualified employee?

- ☐ Connected to a qualified employee in 10 seconds or less
- ☐ Connected between 0:11 and 0:29
- ☐ Connected between 0:30 and 1 minute
- ☐ Connected, but took over 1 minute
- ☐ Not connected

All you have to do is answer this question and listen to the calls. It's very easy and you will be a professional call reviewer in no time.

Signup here.

They will teach you everything that you need to know and if you still can't figure it out then contact me. At first I didn't know what to do but in a few minutes you will understand the whole website so don't worry.

Method 2: Transcription (unsaturated)

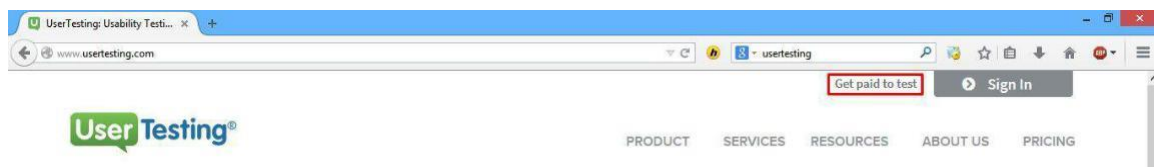

It has something in common with reviewing phone calls. You will need to listen to an audio recording of an interview, conversation, etc you will need to type the content into a document(everything is done on the website so you don't need to open open-office or Microsoft word). Before you can start doing this online work you will need to do a test transcription that will be reviewed by the site.

Signup here.

The pay rate depends on how good and how fast you work. Overall a great source of income.

Method3: Website testing (unsaturated)

I'm going to start with teaching you how to be a website tester since that's the first thing I started with. So, you're probably wondering: where do I have to start? Well the first thing you are going to do is go to this website and register an account, make sure to register as a tester account to do that click on "get paid to test" and fill out all the information. Make sure to use real information since you want to get targeted tests.

After you have registered you will have to complete a test to see if you are qualified to do these kinds of tests. The qualification test is like the test you will get paid for.

Tips

1. Read the steps out loud.
2. Say everything you think about the website.
3. Do the tests in a quiet room.
4. Make sure to click on “Success Center” and click on “Keep Learning” to find helpful tips on how to get started. The better your tests are the more work you will receive. This will result in you getting more money.

Success Center

The screenshot shows the 'Success Center' tab selected in a navigation bar. Below the navigation bar, there are three main sections. The first section is titled 'Testing 101: Be a 5-star tester' and includes a description: 'This lesson will cover testing basics and give you the foundation to be a successful tester. You'll learn what tests are and where to find them; what to expect from us and what we expect in return; and all about ratings.' To the right of this section is a green 'Start Lesson' button and a clock icon indicating 'Time to complete: 15 min'. The second section is titled 'Testing 101: Handling problems while testing' and includes a description: 'This lesson will let you know what to do if you encounter a problem while taking a test.' To the right of this section is a green 'Start Lesson' button and a clock icon indicating 'Time to complete: 15 min'. The third section is titled 'Tester Support Center' and includes a description: 'The Tester Support Center provides the information you need to be a great tester. You'll find troubleshooting help, FAQs, and articles and videos that can help you become a 5-star tester.' To the right of this section is a blue 'Keep Learning' button.

After you have completed the test, they will have to review it. Once they reviewed your qualification test, they will contact you via email or you can login on your account. Now at first you are not going to receive a lot of tests but after you completed a few you will receive more and more. There are three kind of test that they provide. The first one is website testing on your computer and the second one is website testing on your smart phone. For the first kind of tests you will earn $10, the second is $3 each test and the third is $15 each test. The third kind tests are a little bit special.

The footer banner has a dark blue background. On the left is the 'User Testing' logo, where 'User' is in white and 'Testing' is in white with a green speech bubble around the 'U'. In the center is a green button with white text that says 'Become a Mobile Tester!'. On the right side, there are two links: 'Techtest' and 'Your Account' with a small downward arrow.

After you have done a few tests a button will pop-up “Become a Mobile Tester”. This means that you are now able to do the $15 tests. Not everyone can do those since you need to live in Canada, USA, UK. You will be sent a camera to record your mobile tests with.

Method 4: Advanced Website testing and writing (unsaturated)

This kind of testing is very similar to the first kind of testing but instead of talking in a microphone you are going to be writing. So first you are going to register on this website.

As mentioned before, please use real information. Once you have completed the registration you will have to complete a qualification test. This test should not be a problem, once your qualification test is accepted you will get 5 euro in return for your time. Now you will have to wait for the real tests. The instructions given are simple so it should not be a problem. For most tests you do on Testbirds you'll easily earn 20 euros/25 dollars.

Method 5: Mobile application tester (unsaturated)

These kinds of tests will earn you way more money than the first kind of tests if you are a successfully bug finder. To start you will have register on this website. Again, please use real information and fill out all the necessary information, example: which operating system you use on your computer and which smart phone you have.

After you have done that you are set. They will email you once there is a test which you can participate in. Like I said before, at first there will not be much tests for you but once you have done a couple, they will start floating in. So once there is a test, you will have to follow the instructions. They are always different since the publisher of the mobile application makes them. There are two things you can do, first one is finding bugs. Example: the application always crashes. You will then have to explain all the steps you did and provide a few screen shots. The better the bug you found the more you will get paid. You can also review the application which will take a maximum of 5 minutes and earn you some extra money.

Method 6: Translation (unsaturated)

Don't worry if you only know one language or if you don't like to translate. In this eBook I will cover a lot of online work. If you do know how to write fluent in 2 languages and you do like to translate, then you can make a lot of money with it. I'm not going to teach you how to be a freelancer because the competition is huge. So, there is one site that I'm a translator for and it pays an average of $8 per hour. Some people make more than $18 per hour so can you if you are good and fast. Signup here: www.unbabel.com.

This site is particularly good if you can speak/write/read in Hindi, Japanese & Russian.

Once you registered on the website you need to do a few training tasks to see if you are good enough for the site. So hover on the "Task" tab and you will see a few things: Training, Paid, Review, Native Review, Copy writing, for now you need to do the "Training" you need 500 points and 3 reviews that have at least a 3 star rating. Once you have those requirements you can do paid tasks. Those are the ones that can earn you money.

If your language isn't listed on Unbabel please use Gengo.com, they are always looking for translators in more than 30 languages. They pay a little less but the chance your languages is in the list is way bigger at Gengo. The earnings differ a lot but in average for a few hours a day you can earn up to 300-400 dollar per month solely translating!

Method 7: Start your own SEO Company!

What is SeoClerks, how to utilize it and become a successful middleman

SEOClerks is the largest SEO Marketplace on the web with SEO experts from every inch of the world. It is an online marketplace that offers search engine optimization services and other small jobs for a fee. Although a small percentage of services aren't found, you may request them if you don't find what you are looking for.

The platform connects freelancers who are offering a service to customers who are in search of affordable SEO or other services associated with a website.

SEOClerks has become competitive lately.

As the site grows, so do the number of SEOClerks vendors. SEOClerks has become so competitive that it has even affected me. However, it is not a bad thing.

As there are more SEOClerks sellers, that means more people need to compete on quality of their services and over deliver to win over more buyers. If we somehow leverage this, we can make a lot of money.

That's when a few months ago, I began exploring SEOClerks arbitrage.

What is arbitrage? Technically, it is the asymmetry of information and taking advantage of that. But more simply, in SEOClerks's case, it is taking in-demand services on SEOClerks, finding a client on freelancing websites that is willing to pay a lot more (up to 20x more) to get this service performed, and then subcontracting the work out to a SEOClerks seller. Here is an infographic below demonstrating an example of what you will be offering to the client.

So here, the asymmetry of information is that most people don't know about SEOClerks, or don't know how good the quality of work can be on SEOClerks, and then finding those people, and act as a service broker.

This also answers the first question a lot of people ask when it comes to being a SEOClerks "middleman". Why would someone pay $100 for a service they can find on SEOClerks for $5? Again, most people don't know about SEOClerks or have used it to know enough about it and the services offered there.

The next question I often get is "well, isn't this risky? what if the SEOClerks seller cancels or delivers sub-par work?". This is extremely low risk when you consider you're only spending around $5 to make substantial profit. Plus, most SEOClerks sellers allow revisions which give you the opportunity to ensure your client is completely satisfied.

The other question I get is "is this legit, allowed and legal?". The answer to this question as well is yes! If you look closely at SEOClerks's terms of use and service, anything you purchase on SEOClerks is yours. The seller releases all intellectual property to you, to do as you want, unless they state otherwise in their gig. In most cases, if the seller does state otherwise, they usually have a gig extra allowing you to buy a license or full ownership of the product.

In the beginning, it was a lot of trial and error. However, in the last few months, I've been able to consistently act as a middleman for services that I sold for around $80-$100 and only paid $5-$25 for on SEOClerks.

How to differentiate yourself?

Be creative! You don't have to go to SEOClerks and use the packages the sellers offer on there. You have two more options.

You can either combine packages to make a combo deal, this could not only increase your profit margin but also the people interested as this would have potentially more impact than just a few backlinks you bought on there. Try to be smart and make different packages. Name them something like Gold, Platinum and Diamond.

You can also post custom requests on SEOClerks, so you could find potential customers who are looking for SEO services, ask what they exactly have in mind, and go to SEOClerks, open a custom request (make sure to fill in the max amount you want to spend so you can make sure you make profit) and see the request pour in (or not, people work for cheap on SEOClerks, but don't be too absurd)

List of websites to find potential customers

Before I start with a list of non-forum places you can find customers, I want to emphasize that many forums, and probably also the forum you bought this eBook from lacks quality SEO services. If you want to make money with your website without spending hundreds of ads every day/week its essential to rank organically in order to receive “free” and high-quality visitors. Maybe the following forums are something for you:

www.hackforums.net

www.cracked.to

www.leakzone.net

All those forums are general forums with an emphasize on something like cracking/hacking but all have a HUGE marketplace. A lot of members on those sites have websites that will need your services!

But let’s not forgot our typical webmaster forums, most likely all members will have websites in need of your service on those sites:

www.wjunction.com

Also, there are many forums I do not know of! If you’re not English make sure to check out webmaster forums in your language. I know many big Spanish, German, French & Dutch webmaster forum exists but I am sure there are many more in many different languages.

If you do not feel comfortable joining those forums, as this risk of getting scammed is higher here, I have also compiled a list of 15 established marketplace with also thousands of buyers!

1. Upwork

With over 1.5 million clients, Upwork (previously oDesk) offers something for every type of freelancer. It accommodates both short- and long-term projects, hourly or per-project work and expert-level and entry-level engagements. Regardless of where you are in your career, Upwork is likely to have something for you

2. Toptal

With a distinctly different approach than the other services on this list, Toptal is for seasoned, talented freelancers. Passing Toptal's screening process gives you unparalleled access to meaningful projects with great clients (JPMorgan, Zendesk, Airbnb, etc.) and fair compensation (no low-bid contests). You'll also be able to join the Toptal community for frequent meetups and tech events.

3. Elance

Elance removes a lot of the hassle that comes with freelancing. You'll be able to make a profile right away without jumping through any hoops, enjoy payment protection to ensure you're always paid for the hours you work and more.

4. Freelancer

Unlike most other platforms, in addition to offering millions of projects, Freelancer allows you to compete with other freelancers in contests to prove your skills. If you're competitive and confident in your expertise, it's a great way to showcase your abilities and attract more clients.

5. Craigslist

Although most people see Craigslist as just a platform for buying and selling miscellaneous things, it's actually a great source of freelance jobs. You can easily browse for local offerings if you prefer something in-office, or you can search by major cities if you prefer working remotely.

6. Guru

This site lets you easily showcase your past work experience and offers a daily job-matching feature to make sure you don't miss out on any good opportunities. The Guru Work Room lets you easily manage all your work.

7. 99designs

A platform for freelance designers, 99designs lets you compete in design contests and get feedback as clients choose the best ones. It's a great way for talented designers to prove their talents.

8. Peopleperhour

This is a great platform, focusing on freelancing for web projects. If you're a designer, web developer, SEO specialist, etc., peopleperhour is definitely worth checking out.

9. Freelance Writing Gigs

Whether you're a writer, editor, blogger, publisher or any combination of those, Freelance Writing Gigs is a great option for freelancers who have a way with words.

10. Demand Media

Demand Media is a platform for creative types, including writers, filmmakers, producers, photographers and more. You work with the site to create unique content, engage audiences and promote your talents.

11. College Recruiter

As the name might suggest, College Recruiter is for college students or recent graduates looking for freelance jobs of any type. In addition to being a source for part-time work, it can be a great way to jumpstart your career.

12. GetACoder

This site is for freelance writers, web designers and programmers -- exactly what small businesses need to get a website idea off the ground. GetACoder offers millions of smaller-scale projects to choose from.

13. iFreelance

This platform accommodates some of the usual suspects of the freelancing world (writers, editors, coders, etc.) but also features freelance marketers as well. Unlike other sites, iFreelance lets you keep 100 percent of your earnings.

14. Project4hire

With hundreds of project categories, Project4hire makes it easy to identify jobs that suit your skillset, without scanning through large volumes of posts. It's great for coders, consultants, designers and more.

15. SimplyHired

With a wider range than most other freelance platforms offer, SimplyHired is perfect for everyone from salespeople to construction workers. It includes a blog with hiring tips, a company directory and location-based search.

Method 8: BONUS Method – Software reseller

This method has made me a significant amount of money, and I know that it is possible for you too. I have spent several months executing the method myself, perfecting it, and learning the hidden techniques.

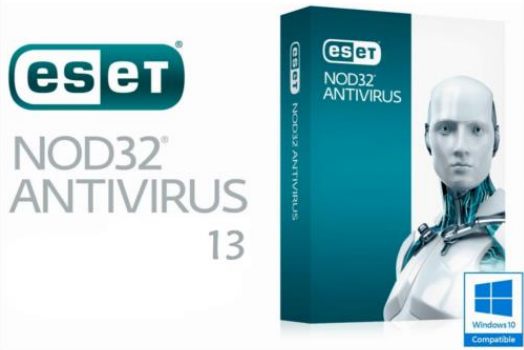

The only requirements you need is time, a computer with internet access (you have this already), and anywhere between $3-10 to start with. After the initial setup, we will have an ROI (return on investment) of +100%.

Without further ado, let me introduce you to the method and get into the in-depth process. Essentially, you are going to be a software reseller. Many believe this market is currently saturated but my consistent profits in this area says otherwise, also people will always need software for their PCs and most people do not know the cheapest means on how to do it, they just know the most convenient one. You are going to sell on the convenient ones.

There are markets where you can buy bulk software keys from Chinese sellers and resell them on various outlets to make a massive amount of profit. We are now going to focus on three different areas of this market within this field categorized based on their risk factor.

By far one of the easiest, and most profitable choices is to purchase antivirus keys and resale them. Take for example ESET's NOD32 ANTIVIRUS.

You can purchase these keys for 3 bucks each and resell them for anywhere between $10-25 depending on the site, which I will list later. Other popular brands for Antivirus are:

- AVG
- Norton
- Avast
- Kaspersky
- Malwarebytes

You can find all of these for similar prices. These can be sold for a few times on what you invested. You can make up to $70 daily by reselling these and it is relatively low risk. If you are happy with the amount made and enjoy low risk pay-outs, stop here. The last methods are slightly higher risk but have a larger pay-out.

Operating Systems

This is your higher risk, higher pay section. The risk is finding a good seller that has legit products, if not, you could end up with a key that doesn't function. However, I will be providing you with my technique to find the right contact.

The way to not get scammed while buying OS keys is by conducting a brief background check on the seller you are interested in. You may easily find cheap windows keys with a search on your selected marketplace. In this example, I will be using a person on eBay.

Based on the 3 areas displayed above (the product search results, the listing, and the seller's feedback), this seller is trustworthy. You may do this background check on other different marketplaces to determine the eligibility of your seller. I wouldn't dive into this market until you have made enough money with antivirus sales (this takes away the risk of losing any money). These sell for anywhere between $30 - $150 depending on the type of operating system, always be sure to check the current selling rate before buying to make sure you will make a profit worth your time. The seller will also include a description on how the product will come. Some sellers label in the listing information that only license keys will be sent while others say the disc + license key will be included.

Other software

One of the best ways to make a profit is to browse the other various software on the marketplaces that I am about to show you. Start off with sorting them by cheapest, pick up some that are a few cents, sort by most popular as that gives you an idea of what is currently hot, and then browse your selected seller stores to find various programs. Always make sure to check eBay or anywhere else you are going to be reselling to make sure you will be able to profit from it. One mistake I have made is I didn't verify my software beforehand. To counteract this, always contact the seller before purchasing and make sure it is a software you will be able to resell. In the past, I bought various programs in which they send me a cracked version or a torrented version which can't be resold. The reason this section is labelled as high risk is because the pay-out can be large but the profits may not be since the software you may be purchasing won't have a market.

Method 9: eBay Underdog – how to find products & get sales

Lastly, I am going to talk about watchcount.com and how to profit from successful sellers on eBay. Watchcount.com is a website that analyses eBay and the products offered on the site. Choose your country and category, if you do not fill in any keywords its going to show the most watched items on eBay. However, for the sake of the example and method we're not going to do that, it's just a handy tip. For now, we're going to search for phone cases.

So, we know this is a killer product! But now I hear you think, but why? This is clearly saturated, and they already have big sellers on eBay. Why would I want to compete with them?

Well, that's simple! We're going to steal some of their sales. What we're going to do is check out their product listing and copy some of their content. This is what I found when I scrolled down on the product page.

Protective Shockproof Hybrid Case For iPhone 6 / 6S /Plus

- Complete use of the iPhone 6 / 6 Plus and iPhone 6S / 6S through the case, including cameras, microphones, and speakers
- Protection from light drops, shortfalls, light rain, and other everyday nuisances
- Port covers keep dirt and debris from getting into the internal device components
- 2-layer design includes a poly-carbonate inner layer and outer TPU layer
- Stylish design gives your phone a unique and distinctive look
- This case fits with most screen protectors that do not cover the entire screen. If your screen protector covers the entire screen of the phone, this case WILL crack the screen protector. Do not try to put on the case. It will not fit. We are not responsible if your screen protector breaks.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: THESE CASES DO NOT HAVE A BUILT-IN SCREEN PROTECTOR

I have copied this and edited a little bit, just a little! You want them to be similar since we want to rank on their keywords as well. But first before we are going through with this, we want to make sure we can find a similar/same item on AliExpress.

This is the first product I found:

It's cheap and looks similar, so its good to go with this. What we're going to do now is create a similar listing as the original listing. Just change a few things. The tactic behind this if we can just a few % of their watchers/sales as our sales its already profit! You may think that it's hard to outrank those sellers? And that is true but overtime you'll get closer and if you just get a few sales per product that is fine. Just keep finding those kinds of products and keep posting them. After a while if you have like 20+ products and it's not unusually to get a bunch of sales per day.
